REAL ESTATE BOOM IN HUA HIN.

Given the growing demand for Thai and Foreign property owners, large investors such as Sansiri, LPN Development and SC Asset Corporation, respectively invested 2.6 billion Baht (about € 65 million) for Sansiri and 2,000,000,000 Baht (about € 50 million) each for LPN Development and SC Asset Corporation in the construction of Condo complexes in Hua Hin. The reasons that these large Groups have invested so much money in Hua Hin are multiple, but the main reason is its proximity to the capital (Bangkok) with its international airport.

Another important reason compared to other resorts in the country such as Pattaya and Phuket is about the security. Hua Hin remains as of today one of the safest cities in the country with the city being home of the second residence of the royal family.

HUA HIN, A GREAT PLACE TO INVEST!

The oldest resort in the kingdom is now the favored retreat for residents of the capital in search of sea air. On the west coast of the Gulf of Thailand, Hua Hin has the wind in its sails ... New darling of big developers in Bangkok for several years, Hua Hin owes some of its success to its reasonable property prices.

An attendance of, 6,350,000 visitors came to Hua Hin since 2007. The proximity of Bangkok, Hua Hin association with the royal family, the growing range of golf and its long white sand beach can explain this success.

The climate is more temperate than in the capital, less pollution and index rainfall is the lowest in Thailand. The city has schools and hospitals of international standards, as well as commercial brands such as Index, Tesco, Home-Pro ... biggest names in the hotel industry such as Inter-Continental & Kempinski, which leaves hope the emergence of international flights, not justifiable to date due to lack of accommodation capacity.

The hotel occupancy rate is also the highest in the country: it is very difficult to find a room for a weekend or holiday. Given the increase in the average length of stay, there is also a growing demand for accommodation in houses and apartments. As a result, major real estate projects offer rental programs that allow investors to rent their property in their absence.

Hua Hin has good days ahead: the global economic situation, growth of international tourism, the exchange rate of the baht is likely to improve, the restrictions on foreign ownership has little impact on the market because of the strong Thai request. There is thus a steady increase in purchase prices on off-plan property or upon resale.

THE FUTURE OF THAILAND AND HUA HIN ON TRACK.

Pansak Vinyarat, Chairman of Prime Minister Yingluck Shinawatra government, has undertaken the task to check the offers of different companies able to build four high-speed rail lines, which will require a combined investment of more than 400 billion baht.

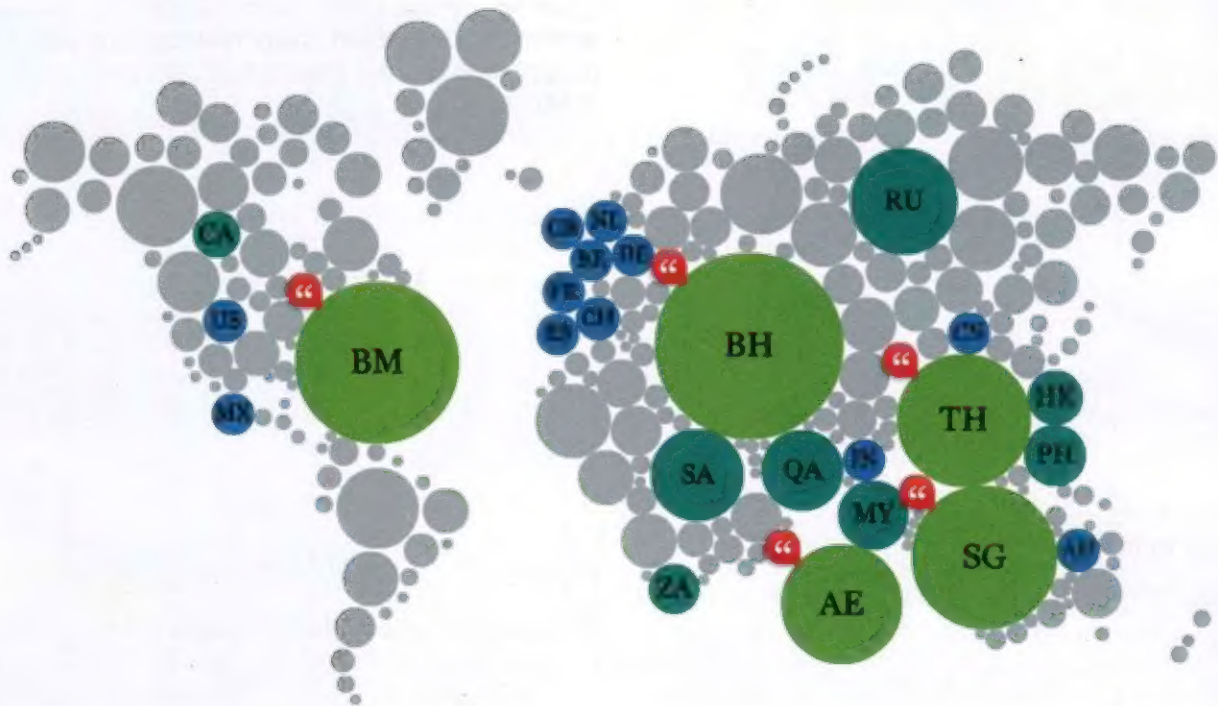

This project is part of the government's investment of more than 2.2 trillion baht program of infrastructure improvements for years to come, with four projects of high-speed trains planned for completion in 2018.

The project will start in the high-speed lines between Bangkok and Hua Hin, Bangkok-Phitsanulok, Bangkok-Nakhon Ratchasima, Bangkok and Pattaya.

In the second phase of this project, to be completed by 2022, the high-speed lines will be extended from Bangkok to Rayong, Bangkok-Chiang Mai, Bangkok-Nong Khai, Bangkok and Hat Yai, covering all major regions of Thailand.

EXPATRIATION ...

ACCORDING TO HSBC, SINGAPORE, THAILAND, HONG KONG AND CHINA STUDY ARE THE MOST ECONOMICALLY ATTRACTIVE DESTINATIONS.

What is the paradise for expatriates? Answer: South-East Asia, according to an HSBC survey released on Monday.* "This is a acclaimed as to ensure a good quality of life to increase its income destination," said François Moreau, general secretary of the retail banking HSBC France.

SINGAPORE HEAD

Among the most economically interesting for expats country is primarily Singapore, followed by Bermuda, Thailand, Hong Kong, Cayman Islands, Mexico and China.

"Singapore welcomes the wealthy expatriates: and 54% of expatriates living there who participated in the study, earning more than $ 200,000 per year. And 80% of those who stay have improved their situation when they were already off on arrival," said François Moreau.

This trend of increasing income also exists for expatriates from other Asian countries: they are 79% have experienced a significant improvement in their financial situation since their installation in Hong Kong, 72% in Malaysia and 69% in China.

Great opportunities in the Middle East

The Middle East (Saudi Arabia, Qatar, Bahrain, Oman ...) continues to offer excellent career opportunities, but many expats are planning to make a temporary stay. "They are difficult to integrate because they do not have the same freedom of movement in their country and complain about weather," says François Moreau.

EUROPE IN TURBULENCE

As for Europe, it pales in the rankings. France thus appears in the 27th position of the most attractive from an economic point of view on a total of 30 countries. "Expatriates perceive well the deteriorating economic climate in the country since the crisis. They drop lower wages in the Middle East, for example, and the tax burden is higher," François Moreau analysis.

And the future? They do not see either in pink with 48% of expats show their dissatisfaction with the country's economic prospects. But contradictorily, the majority of them (69%) wish to extend their stay in France.

"And for a reason: people who go abroad in France do not for economic reasons, but to enjoy a certain quality of life and a rich cultural environment," decrypts François Moreau. And for him, increasing taxes on high incomes will not change the situation, on the contrary ...

*Survey conducted by the institute YouGov for HSBC from 5339 expatriates in a hundred countries surveyed from May 11 to July 3, 2012.

DRAMATIC REBOUND OF GROWTH IN THAILAND.

The Thai economy experienced a dramatic rebound (+18.9%) in the fourth quarter of 2012, pushing growth beyond the most optimistic 6.4% forecast for 2012.

The economic growth of Thailand has accelerated in the fourth quarter due to an increase in exports and domestic demand, reducing pressure on the central bank for further rate cuts.

The gross domestic product grew 18.9% in the last three months of the previous year, after rising 3.1% the previous quarter, the National Economic and Social Development Board (NESDB) said that in Bangkok Monday. The median of 14 estimates in a Bloomberg survey was 15.3%. 's economy grew by 6.4% in 2012 against 0.1% in 2011, when the floods had paralyzed much of the country. The Prime Minister Yingluck Shinawatra last year increased the minimum wage by more than 40% in several provinces and announced incentives for car buyers and rice to boost domestic demand. The Thai baht rose more than 5% against the U.S. dollar over the past six months, the largest increase among 11 major Asian currencies tracked by Bloomberg. The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET) has reached its highest level since November 1994 last week.

The central bank last month raised its forecast for GDP growth in 2013 at 4.9% against a previous forecast of 4.6%, while maintaining its projection for export growth of 9%.

Car sales in Thailand reached a record 1.44 million in 2012, supported by a tax incentive for first-time buyers. Bank loans rose 13.7% in 2012. Source: www.thailand-fr.com

MORTGAGES IN THAILAND

Wanting to buy a house or villa in Thailand but need finance? Speak to our property advisers about what your options are in Thailand with regards to obtaining a mortgage bond in Thailand.

FINANCING.....

Property financing for foreigners in Thailand is possible. When we buy a property back home, one of the first things we would think of is financing. Even for those who have sufficient funding and liquidity for an acquisition, financing is often seen as a means of leveraging our investments. For buyers with less access to funding, financing is an indispensable vehicle they use to own that dream home. In this instance, Thailand is the same as any other country. Most of the financial institutions in Thailand provide loans for real estate purchases to local Thais and Thai companies based on similar criteria we are used to in our home country. However, the similarities do end there for most foreigners buying property in Thailand.

Foreigners generally cannot mortgage properties in Thailand. In fact, mortgage lending by local banks to foreigners was virtually unheard of in Thailand. Nonetheless, in recent years we have seen a slight shift in policies to allow foreigners limited access to financing. This was instigated, in part, by the Thai government's eagerness to promote tourism and to encourage economic growth in Thailand. This was introduced during the high growth period of the past five years leading to Thailand's current climate which can now be best described as moribund.

Despite this, the momentum gained from the past few years has meant that some Thai banks do offer financing services to foreigners but impose rather strict terms and conditions on their availability. The most important condition is that the property has to be held in the foreigner's own name and the property has to be registered as a condominium under the Condominium Act since foreigners are restricted to purchasing only these types of properties in Thailand.

LOCAL LENDING IN THAILAND

Terms of offer for loans in Thailand are dependent on the policies of the Bank of Thailand for each fiscal term. This is also dependent largely on each bank's own business strategies which also vary year by year. Banks in Thailand normally provide personal loans to individuals and this includes credit card facilities, business loans, personal loans for education or medical treatment as well as personal loans for general use such as the purchase of a condominium, renovations, car purchases and so on. These facilities are, subject to each bank's individual policy, available to foreigners who have lived and worked in Thailand for a number of years.

In order to obtain these personal loans for the purchase of a condominium, certain conditions must be met. First of all, it is important to note that these loans are generally granted on the fair market value of the property and this is usually based on the bank's own valuation process.

The other important criterion is the qualification of the foreigner These are set out below in the following:.

- A letter of employment indicating their years of service in Thailand and their annual salary.
- Pay slips will usually be attached to this as well.
- The banks may also request for the employer's company documents
- The banks would also conduct credit checks on the foreigner
- The applicant's age combined with the loan period must not exceed 60 years.
- Applicants must have a fixed income three times higher than each installment repayment.
- The aggregate amortization of loan must exceed 7 years (for some banks).

The applicant may also be required to submit the following documents to the bank upon application.

- Copies of passport including visa page, ID card or government official ID card
- Marriage certificate of the applicant and spouse (if applicable).
- Confirmation of income or salary, and copies of bank statements
- Copies of land or unit title deeds, sale and purchase contracts

The interest rates for these types of loan are typically based on the MLR or on a fixed interest rate depending on the bank offer at the time. It is also helpful to note that because these loans are offered locally, the interest rates are usually a bit more competitive and it does pay to shop around first.

INTERNATIONAL HOME LOAN SCHEMES FOR THAILAND

Around the middle of 2005, Thailand saw the emergence of a new financing service offered by Bangkok Bank's Singapore branch. At this time we saw Bangkok Bank starting to offer offshore financing for foreigners wishing to purchase real estate in Thailand. Up to 70% of the property's value was made available to foreigners who did not qualify for a local loan. This gave many foreigners access to finance for their dream homes even if they did not reside in Thailand. Up until this time, there were only a handful of private offshore firms offering lines of credit of this kind and often at rather stringent and unattractive terms.

Bangkok Bank in Singapore still offers such loans to foreigners and the demand for this is increasing. They are able to tender loans in several currencies including US and Singapore Dollars. Currently, the interest rate for USD loan consists of the prime plus 0.5% which in total stands at 8.75%. A processing fee will also be incurred upon application. Bangkok Bank does insist on meeting the applicants in person and this means you would usually have to travel to Singapore to apply for this.

Bangkok Bank was the first bank in Singapore to offer such financing services. However, this year we saw the introduction of United Overseas Bank (UOB) in Singapore jumping on the band wagon and offering similar lending services to foreigners wishing to purchase real estate in Thailand. It is a relatively new scheme for UOB and it was introduced largely as an alternative to Bangkok Bank's hold on this lucrative market. It is a good thing that we are starting to see some competition in this area and in the future this will hopefully create an environment that would improve the consumer's position with various banks trying to outdo each other with more competitive rates.

At the moment, the terms for a UOB international loan is still very similar to Bangkok Bank with their interest rate currently also at 8.75%. However, it appears their processing fee may be slightly higher but offers the advantage of applying for the loan locally in Thailand without having to set foot in Singapore. UOB's entrance into this niche market is a welcoming sign to the area of financing to foreigners in Thailand.

CRITERIA FOR A MORTGAGE...

Mortgages are governed under section 702 of the Thailand Civil and Commercial Code. In this section, there are certain rules which must be adhered to in order to qualify for protection under Thai law. These include the following:

- The mortgager must have the right of ownership of the property.
- The mortgage contract must be in writing and must be registered
- The parties must register the mortgage to the authorized Officer for the following cases:
 - a. LAND WITH TITLE DEED has to be registered at the Land Department or Bangkok Metropolis Land Office (Branch) or Provincial Land Office or Provincial Land Office (Branch) where the land being mortgaged is located.
 - b. LAND WITH NO TITLE DEED SUCH AS NOR. SOR. 3, has to be registered at the District Office where the land being mortgaged is located.

Below is a list of several banks in Thailand along with their various policies and criteria on servicing loans to foreigners

Name	Terms and Conditions for Qualification of Loan

Bank of Ayudhaya PCL.	Bank of Ayudhaya does not offer loans to foreigners at this present moment.
HSBC	HSBC does provide loans to foreigners under the following conditions: Residence Permit, 1 year work permit, letter of employment, company's documents or other pertinent documents upon request. Bank will grant loans for foreigners based on the current market value: Condominium 70% of the value and Land and House up to 80% of the value. An amortization period of 7 years.
Kasikorn Bank	Kasikorn Bank does not offer loans to foreigners at this present moment.
Siam Commercial Bank PCL. (SCB)	Provides loans for foreigners under the following conditions: 1 year work permit, consideration based on rate of salary, background check for the employment and credit rating. The foreigner can receive a loan for a condominium or house. A joint loan can only be obtained between blood relations. Amortization period of between 5-7 years. For personal loans, SCB only grants credit cards, but not for personal business loans.
Thai Military Bank PCL. (TMB)	Provides loans for foreigners (only condominiums) under the following conditions: 2 year work permit or 2 years residence permit, passport, letter of the employment, payment slip and other supporting documents requested. If the foreigner has some added security finance, this will be an added appendage for the banks to consider. If the loan is for landed property, a foreigner will only be able to obtain a loan if they apply jointly with a Thai spouse.

Name	Terms and Conditions for Qualification of Loan
UOB Public Company Limited	UOB in Thailand provides loans for foreigners under the following conditions: A loan for landed property can be obtained by a foreigner if it is applied jointly with a Thai spouse. UOB has launched the new International Home Loan Scheme for Thailand to allow foreigners access to financing when they wish to buy condominiums in Thailand. This is a joint financing program between UOB in Thailand and UOB in Singapore. Loans will be obtained in UOB in Singapore and secured by SBLC which will then be issued by UOB in Thailand which will in turn register the mortgage locally. UOB in Thailand suggests that the entire application procedure can be done within Thailand without the applicant going to Singapore.
Tisco Bank	Provides loans for foreigners for condominium under the following conditions: 1 years work permit. Tisco will grant loans for foreigners based on the market value of the property: offers lending for condominiums for up to 70% of its value. Foreigners can borrow a maximum of 5 million Baht and not less than 700,000 Baht. Amortization rate of 10 years.

The information in this table is deemed to be accurate at the publication of this article. We do not accept liability for any loss or damage claimed to be caused by the information provided in this table.

It would appear then that financing is gradually becoming more accessible to foreigners in recent years. It remains true that financing for foreigners is no still easy task and is highly dependent on your individual needs and circumstances. Financing terms are still not what we are used to back home and it is certainly not for everyone. Before applying for either a local loan in Thailand or an international off-shore loan from either Bangkok Bank or UOB it is wise to assess the markets first and consult with a reputable financial adviser or lawyer.

Cha Am

CHA AM HISTORY

Maruekhathaiyawan Palace

Located about 2.5 hours south of Bangkok, on the west side of the Gulf of Thailand, Cha Am is a favourite destination of many Thai people who live in the city. For years they have seen Cha Am as a destination where they can spend a weekend relaxing and getting away from the hustle and bustle of Bangkok life.

Established in 1897, the district of Cha Am was originally called Na Yang and this remained its name up until 1914, when the municipal and administrative centre for the district was moved to Tha Yang. Following this move the district then became known as Nong Chok. Shortly after the Second World War government officials decided to move the municipal offices to Tambon Cha Am, as it was known at the time. This move prompted yet another name change and it was then the area changed its name to Cha Am.

However, there is a much more entertaining and interesting story regarding how Cha Am got its name; certainly more entertaining than any story to do with municipal districts and the renaming of administrative centres!

Whilst it might be difficult to verify the truth in this tale, the story claims that Cha Am got its name following a visit from Thailand's great king, Ayutthaya. The legend has it that after travelling for several days the King and his company of soldiers started to become hungry, tired and weary, so the King decided to stop at a small coastal fishing port so him and his men could eat, relax and get some rest. However, the incredibly loyal and well trained soldiers, who were already very tired, did not want to waste a single minute whilst they were in the presence of their king who was relaxing peacefully. As the King was resting and enjoying the beautiful views of the Siam Gulf and the surrounding coastline, the soldiers, began to work on cleaning their saddles until they were immaculate, in order to please their much loved King. From this day forward the little fishing village was renamed Cha Am, which roughly translates to 'The Saddle'.

Whether this story actually happened or not is immaterial to many Thais who live in or regularly frequent Cha Am. This whole episode involving King Ayutthaya is considered by many to one good luck and fortune and this helps to explain why Cha Am has a special place in the hearts of so many Thais.

Going back many years, it was not just Thai civilians who were drawn to natural beauty and relaxing atmosphere that Cha Am had to offer. Many royals and aristocrats would regularly frequent this area of Thailand too, in order to take a holiday and relax in the cool and rejuvenating sea air.

The early 1900's also saw the major development of the railway line that starts in Bangkok and travels south as far as Hat Yai and across the border to Malaysia. The railway line provided a quick and convenient form of transportation to and from Bangkok and Cha Am, which is still in use today. The newly formed rail network meant that royals and aristocrats were able to travel south from Bangkok much easier than they had been before. This resulted in them building palaces and other property in Cha Am and the surrounding area along the coast of the Gulf of Thailand. This also led to Cha Am being known as a royal resort.

In 1923 King Rama VI, who had been experiencing a number of health problems, had been told by his medical staff to spend time recovering from his ailments in a location that was dry and cool. Acting on this advice he arranged for the Maruekhathaiyawan Palace to be built near Cha Am in order to take advantage of its clean air and wonderfully cool sea breezes.

Designed by an Italian architect, the palace is known for its three storey wooden pavilion that faces out to the sea. The Maruekhathaiyawan Palace is also known as the 'palace of love and hope' or 'the wooden palace' and is generally considered to be the longest golden teak palace in the world. As the years went by, Cha Am continued to increase in popularity with Thai nationals and it served as the premier holiday destination for the people of Bangkok and the surrounding area. Speak to anyone from Bangkok who is over the age of 30 and there is a fair chance that they will have been to Cha Am for a holiday or weekend break at some stage in their lives.

The little fishing port began to grow and whilst it is still reasonably small in terms of size today, it supplies fresh seafood, particularly squid, to the surrounding area and throughout all of Thailand. If you have ever eaten seafood from any one of the thousands of restaurants that are in Bangkok, the likelihood is that it will have been caught off the coast of Cha Am.

Drawing closer to the present day, whilst many of Thailand's leading tourist destinations started to undergo massive development and modernisation during the late 1980s and 1990s, Cha Am almost seemed to get left behind. However, this certainly was in Cha Am's favour as the resort still remained popular with many Thais.

What Cha Am may lack is definitely considered by most to be one of its biggest plus points and the omission of modern developments, retail chains and fast food restaurants haven't deterred people from visiting in their thousands each year. Today Cha Am is just as popular as ever with Thais and foreign tourists who are drawn to the relaxing nature of this traditional Thai resort.

CHA AM

GENERAL INFORMATION

Cha Am Beach...

Cha Am is one of Thailand's most popular and iconic holiday destinations and it is home to a wide range of wonderful sights, exciting activities and interesting events and festivals. Even if you are visiting Cha Am for the very first time you will quickly be taken aback by its quaint, enchanting beauty and you can be sure to find something fun and exciting to keep you well occupied during your stay.

The popularity of Cha Am lies in its ability to mix the old with the new. If you are looking for a destination that offers all the wonders and charm of traditional Thailand then Cha Am is your place. If you are looking to enjoy a fun and vibrant night out then Cha Am can cater for you too, with its array of modern and colourful restaurants and bars.

Part of the distinct attraction with Cha Am is in what it lacks and to this day it is a destination that has remained relatively untouched by the hands of modern property and retail developers or by hordes of overseas tourists and backpackers. Don't let this put you off though, as it helps to add a unique flavour and relaxed pace to the town, something which is very quickly disappearing from many holiday destinations throughout Thailand.

You certainly won't find row after row of bars, fast food chains, large retail outlets or convenience stores in Cha Am but what you will find is a lovely, clean and long beach, with golden sands, clear water and enough facilities and amenities to ensure that you have a fabulous time during your stay.

Cha Am's beach is certainly one of its main attractions and many visitors like nothing better than spending their days sunbathing whilst drinking a nice cold beer and eating some of the finest seafood that Thailand has to offer, which is available from many of the beachside restaurants and vendors. An excursion to one of Cha Am's beautiful natural parks is another popular highlight for many people.

Traditionally a fishing village, the local fishing port still plays an important role in the town, with fisherman hauling in all that great seafood, which appears on nearly all the menus of many of Cha Am's finest restaurants. It can be nice to spend a couple of hours walking around Cha Am's fishing village and watching some of the fishermen at work as they unload their trawlers. The fishing village is also the location of Cha Am's pier which offers great views of the surrounding coastline.

The area surrounding Cha Am also offers plenty in the way of attractions and entertainment. Hua Hin which is considered by many to be the livelier, bigger brother of Cha Am. Located just 25km to the South and has everything in the way of shopping centres, modern developments and late night entertainment. Many people often choose to stay in Cha Am and head into Hua Hin for if they want a little more action.

If you are looking to immerse yourself in Thai religious, royal and military history then head 40 minutes north of Cha Am to the town of Petchaburi.

Approximately 2.5 hours away from Bangkok, Cha Am's main popularity is with Thais who travel down to escape the hustle and bustle of Bangkok life in order to get away from it all for a long weekend or short break.

Cha Am boasts a wide range of accommodation facilities which range from exclusive 5 star resorts, boutique hotels and condotels to guesthouses, bungalows and even a beachside camping area.

Cha Am can be easily accessed by car, bus, coach or train with the journey time from Bangkok normally taking no more than 3 hours.

HOW REAL ESTATE AGENTS WORK IN HUA HIN

Most properties in Hua Hin are multi-listed, with the average property listed with 4 or 5 experienced Agents but some are listed with one Agent who the Seller may have a strong relationship with, as possibly they sold the property to the Seller originally or the Seller has had a good recommendation about the Agent. The Smaller Agents then tend to copy from the experienced Agents site and put on their own websites. They will then contact the experienced Agent if they have a Buyer come through them, the experienced Agent will then help with the viewing as they will be very familiar with the property and then both Agents share the commission.

The experienced Real Estate Agents in Hua Hin know each other well and share listings, so that if they have a Buyer who has a specific property in mind that the Agent doesn't have, they will turn to each other for a potentially matching property. Buyers on the whole don't realize this happens and when they arrive in Hua Hin or before they arrive via the internet, they will make appointments with 2 or 3 Agents. As Agents this is frustrating for us in many ways, from efficient use of our time, to higher costs and to misunderstandings with Developers and Sellers as it is understood that the first agent to take a Buyer to a particular property is then the introducing Agent and thus if a buyer wishes to buy they should go back to that Agent.

Agents prefer to have time to get to know their Buyers well over a series of 1,2 or 3 viewing programs where they will get to know the Buyers likes and dislikes, which really helps narrow down the best choices which ultimately benefits both the Buyer and the Agent to finding the ideal property. If an Agent is only given 1 opportunity with 1 viewing program and the Buyer starts again with a new Agent the next day and so on, it is possible that the Buyer will get conflicting and inaccurate advice as the next Agents may try and dissuade a Buyer from a particular property because they didn't show it first and won't gain the sale. They will also find that the standard of the Agent will vary so the Buyer may get vast differences in knowledge and experience. If a Buyer chooses several Agents then each time the Buyer has to spend extra time to explain to each Agent what they are looking for and then hope that that Agent is able to use the information into finding properties that match.

Therefore our recommendation is that a Buyer chooses one Agent and makes a decision on which Agent based on the following:

- How they answered your original enquiry via the internet or the impression they gave when you walked into their offices.... first impressions count.
- Does the Agent look successful and well established, thus it would normally follow that they have good experience and a satisfied customer base
- Is the Agent responsible for their advice, are they accountable to a Head Office and follow compliant procedures.
- Will the Agent give you access to their most experienced adviser to help you make one of the biggest purchases of your life or will you get an inexperienced team member that could steer you in the wrong direction.
- Do they have a strong inventory of property listings and are they up to date with the prices. Being up to date can save you millions of Baht.
- Will the Agent treat you the same if you are not ready to Buy now and are purely fact finding for the future
- Has the Agent the knowledge of the legalities of purchasing and keeping up to date with any changes through a regular training program.

CENTURY 21 TERMS OF BUSINESS

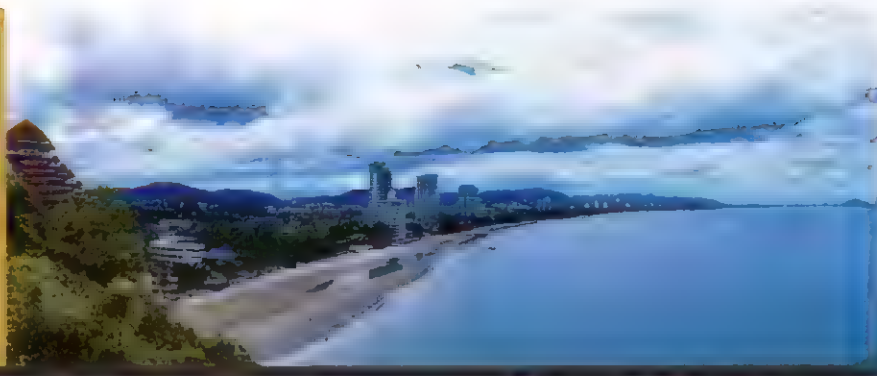

As an Agent we wish to be treated fairly by Buyers, we are professionals and can only do our best if we are given consistent and accurate information. It is frustrating if a Buyer asks to see only Villas and then when he sees another Agent has changed their mind and now wish to see Condos too or instead. It is frustrating if the Buyer changes their budget up or down when they see another Agent and so on. It is far more appropriate if the Buyer tells the same Agent regarding the changes, who then is able to have good knowledge of the Buyer, who will then adjust the next viewing programs to suit. We will summarize after each viewing and if more properties are required to view, then the Agent can research for properties from our inventory or will contact other Agents if they have a property that might match. In Hua Hin, most of the Agents work closely with each other and are happy to share the commission for listings.

If for any reason you do not agree with using us exclusively, we would accept being the last Agent you wish to use if you have chosen to have a series of viewing appointments, at which time you may be more certain of your property criteria. We would then be happy to show you properties that other Agents hadn't considered. We are happy to offer unbiased advice on anything you are considering buying with another Agent by pointing out the pros and cons of any property based on its selling price, location, quality, after sales service of a Developer and the future resale/investment potential, as there are many things to consider. By us giving you unbiased advice, we are sure you will recommend our services again.

We can say with honesty and integrity that Buyers who have chosen to use our services exclusively found that their time was best used and they were able to enjoy more time whilst in Hua Hin, that they benefited from using one Agent who really understood that wishes, whether at the beginning or during the series of viewing appointments and they benefited from using us as we were able to secure the best price, best terms and the best choice of ownership to suit the Buyer.

CENTURY 21 HUA HIN PROPERTY VILLAS - 2013 REVIEW TO DATE

In general Hua Hin, Thailand & Asia seems to avoid the financial issues in the USA & Europe and the property sector continues with little obstacles. Thailand has avoided most issues for a couple of years with reasonable political stability, a healthy GDP and a strong Baht. Hua Hin continues to grow steadily from a big town to a small city and seem to be absorbing the empty land towards Cha-am and southerly towards Pranburi. The majority of property development is moving Westerly with buyers happy to accept 5-10 km drive distance from their homes in the nearby countryside. Facilities in the West are catching up and areas are becoming small villages with all the shops you would expect and entertainment.

Hua Hin has addressed its issue of town centre congestion by widening the trunk roads of Palau Road and Soi 112 from the West via the By-pass and "middle Road". Congestion in the future will also be reduced due to the announcement that Hua Hin will be linked by a high speed rail network from Bangkok with travel times estimated at 45 minutes. The airport is currently providing flights to KL, Malaysia and it is deemed possible that there will be a reliable airport service for Hua Hin to across Thailand and neighboring countries in the not too distant future.

The huge new shopping centre, The Venetian, has open (Q3), at the North end of town whilst the new Blue Point shopping centre, opposite the Intercontinental Hotel, Has start in year with completion within 12-15 Months.

The Water Park near Black Mountain Golf Course and Wakeboard centre has proved to be a great success with great quality, service and prices, coming from the Development team from Black Mountain Golf Course, Villa & Condo Residences & Pool Villa rentals.

The many golf courses in and near Hua Hin are competing with each other to provide the best services on the golf course as well as in their bars and restaurants giving everyone who plays or visits receiving a great experience. The Banyan, Black Mountain, Sea Pines, Springfield, Majestic Creek, Palm Hills, The Royal, The Eagle Milford and Lakeview are all within a close proximity, many only a few minutes from the Town Centre. Accommodation can be found for play and stay in most of the courses with The Banyan offering

1 or 2 bed pool villas and 1 bed suites, Black Mountain offering 2 or 3 bed pool villas, Palm Hills offering 2 or 3 bed condos, Springfield 2 bed Condos and Sea Pines has a Hotel.

Bangkokians continue to look on Hua Hin as their weekend retreat when they can get away from Bangkok hussle and bussle. These Thais are buying Condos and Villas in all areas of Hua Hin as the popularity of Hua Hin just grows and grows within Thailand and also internationally. It has to be said that if a Buyer or a Renter is looking for a place to settle in Thailand, then Hua Hin will tick many of the boxes for; Infrastructure, its a convenient size to visit shops and attractions, it provides value for money for property and services, it has a good close proximity to Bangkok, middle Thailand and the southern islands, has low corruption due to the presence of the Royal Family and has the type of residents and tourist visitors that gives the town a good name.

Property

The past 12-18 months as seen a huge increase in Villa and Condo sales in Hua Hin, with confidence high from Buyers that they are making a good choice to buy at this time.

Villas

Villas are consistently selling off-plan (as buyers can spread their payments over the construction period and can have input into some design changes) as well consistent re-sales volumes with Foreigners typically buying 3 bed pool villas ranging in price from 5 M - 20 M baht with the average sales up to around 8 M baht and Thais typically buying Villas in the 2 M - 7 M baht range with the average sale of around 4M Baht. Buyers are taking advantage of many great deals from Sellers who are able to reduce their selling price if they are repatriating their property purchase funds and talking into account the currency rate differentials from when the bought to now when they sell. Developers have had to compete with re-sales so many have capped their prices for some time. Buyers are certainly feeling that if they don't buy now, prices could change to their disadvantage even if exchange rates don't improve.

on plots ranging from 500 sqm - 1,600 sqm and with prices from 5 M - 20 M baht or more.

Hua Hin town. Here you will enter the beautiful area of Tab Tai that gives amazing countryside vistas and views of the distant Myanmar Hills to the West that receives the evening sunsets. NEW LUXURY MODERN POOL VILLAS

"A brand new development in Hua Hin on soi 88, White Stone Villas (www.whitestone-villas.com) offers luxury living in comfort and quality."

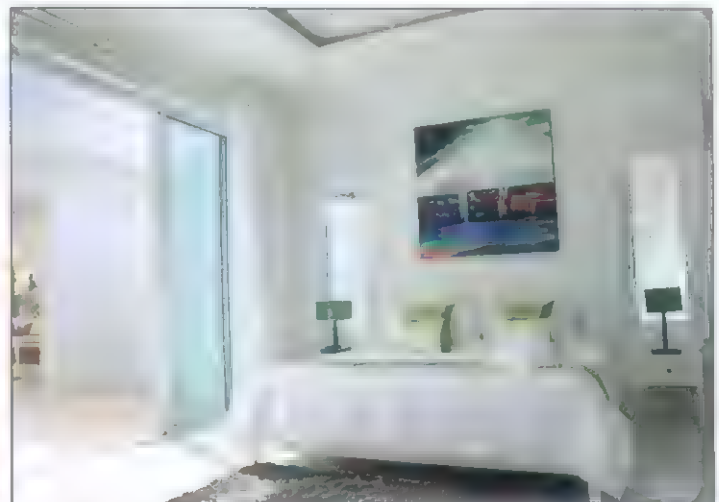

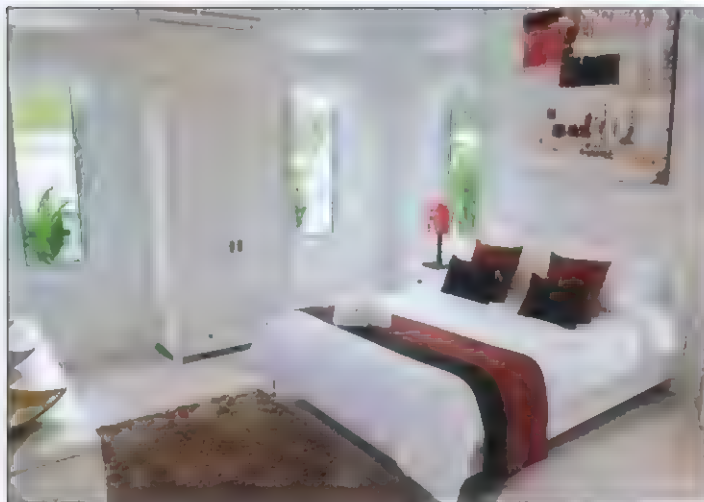

There are 17 modern, clean-designed, L-shaped luxury pool villas with a feature swimming pool within a central courtyard. The villas are in a beautiful location with stunning hill surroundings in a secure location and only 10 minutes from town center. Additionally, first-time buyers will be able to get no interest on installment payments.

The beautiful new villas are uniquely designed to give maximum privacy by placing the pools, entertainment areas and gardens at the rear, coupled with an additional first reception entrance lobby and secure side gates. This gives the security and knowledge that no one can enter the large spacious private areas without first gaining permission of having keys.

THE VILLAS

All white Stone pool villas have 3 good-sized bedrooms and 2 bathrooms. The Master bedroom has a walk-in wardrobe and en-suite bathroom. The villas are 190m² under roof with an additional 18 m² pool-side covered sala which has been designed for dining, entertaining or relaxing. The villas feature an 8m x 4m swimming pool with 4 steps and jacuzzi jets. All villas are situated on land plots ranging from 530 m² (standard plot) to 720 m². The gardens on the land plots are tropically planted. Ownership of the villas can be either freehold or leasehold.

The interior design is an open plan style with spacious living, dining and kitchen areas. Two large sliding doors lead directly to the pool area, from both the living room and kitchen area. There is also another sliding door leading from the kitchen to the garden covered terrace which would be one of two ideal spots for outside dining, the other being the large covered sala. The villas come with air conditioning in each room and modern ceiling fans both indoors and within outside covered areas. The exterior floor areas are a quality covering of sand blast marble which was chosen for an aesthetic, luxury presentation and ease of cleaning and maintenance.

The villas use high - quality materials throughout to ensure the overall design is one of a modern, light, spacious home that takes full advantage of its location views and the views from within. These include high-quality roof tiles, pool tiles, pool equipment, sand blast marble pool floor covering, high-gloss kitchen with soft close, Frankie sink, and solid hardwood entrance doors.

WHITESTONE VILLAS IS A LUXURY RESIDENTIAL ESTATE NOT FAR FROM THE HEART OF HUA HIN.

THE DEVELOPMENT

White Stone Villas consists of 17 beautiful pool villas on 7.5 Rai of elevated land in one of the most popular areas of Hua Hin. The Development is set in a beautiful natural valley surrounded by mountains and lakes. And with 8 sales achieved in the first 2 months of the completion of the show villa, the popularity and success of the project has quickly been established.

The entire project is scheduled to be fully - completed by July 2013. However, any house can be accelerated to be completed early if the buyer wishes. Several buyers are due to take possession of their new house by the end of year.

White Stone Villas is located on land that is adjacent to a large surrounding area of government land that is protected as a nature project and reservoir. The "middle road" and Bypass road are only a few minutes away, giving easier access into the town via the widened roads of Pala U and Soi 112 or easy access to the nearby floating markets.

The Developer hired a construction management team that has been successfully building homes in the area for over 20 years and the entire project has been overseen by the Project Management team at Century 21 Hua Hin, who is also the lead Sales Agent for local, National and International sales.

The Development features underground electric, government water connection plus its own deep water well, 10 meter wide roads with a quality final finish and a concept of no back-to-back house, ensuring as much privacy and little disturbance from neighbors as possible. The friendly security guards, stationed in the modern security house at the entrance will ensure that guests can be permitted whilst only giving access to others who are allowed within the project. Throughout common areas, the Developer has also chosen to use quality materials.

THE LOCATION

These quality houses are located on Soi 88, within the Tab Tai area and are adjacent to Red Mountain Development and also the Developments of Hillside hamlet 3, Avenue 88 Gold, The Lees, Avenue 88 Executive Homes and Orchid Palm Homes 3, 4, 5 & 6 Developments. This area on Soi 88 has become very popular with expats and Thais looking for good quality designed homes set in the countryside but still less than 10 minutes drive from Hua Hin Centre. Recently a huge area of land has been purchased by Singha Company Thailand and has been developed into stables and a Polo Club.

THE PROJECT TEAM

The White Stone Villas project has been conceptualized by the Century 21 Hua Hin Project team who acquired the land and is overseeing all aspects from start to completion. The team was able to convince the Investment Company to build out the entire project from the beginning, as this was the best way to achieve success and gain the full confidence of Buyers.

The project team at Century 21 Hua Hin has been involved within the Hua Hin property arena for some years, helping to acquire land for projects such as The Falls, Phu Montra and Falcon Hill and then subsequently assisting the projects in design, concept, Marketing and sales. The team was also involved in the Development of The Banyan Resort which included design, construction, interior design, staffing of all departments and project management until successful handover.

Century 21 Hua Hin will soon project - manage a new beachside development, starting in December this year, of 50, 2 bed pool villas in the increasingly popular Dolphin Bay area as well as a new fully serviced project of 30 high end luxury villas near the Floating Markets that are bordered by a large reservoir. Other projects in planning are affordable luxury pool villas on a Golf Course and a new exclusive Condo in Kao Takieb that will feature only 35 large units of the highest quality seen in Hua Hin.

Century 21 Hua Hin has sustained strong sales due to the success and huge interest of Hua Hin and has seen the Company expand its office at the Hilton (with the shop next door) and a soon to be opened new office in Kao Takiab, opposite the Amari Hotel and Residences and two new My Resort Condo Developments - which Century 21 has sole agency. My Resort 2 completed in May 2013. The Partners of CENTURY 21 Pro Real Estate Hua Hin have been voted the Best Agent Hua Hin at the Thailand Property Awards for 2013 / 2014 and last year won highly recommended as runner-up and bring 9 years of experience dealing day to day with advising clients on purchasing Real Estate. Specializing in the areas of Hua Hin, to the south in Pranburi, Kao Kalok and Dolphin Bay and to the North in Cha-am our knowledge is second to none. With a client bank of over 1,500 successful sales, over 1,000 property listings and regular newsletters being distributed to over 15,000 interested buyers, we are pleased to have contributed vastly to the success in particular of Hua Hin and to the growing interest in the North and South of Hua Hin as clients seek in those places, a less Developed setting and lifestyle.

CENTURY 21 Pro Real Estate Hua Hin offers a huge and up to date selection of over 1,000 property listings in Hua Hin and the surrounding areas of Pranburi, Khao Kalok, Dolphin Bay, Sam Roi Yod, Prachuap Khiri Khan, Baan Krud, Huay Yang and to the North in Cha-am. We pride ourselves in having accurate information, correct pricing and strong relationships with the Sellers so we can advise confidently all matters relating to the property and help secure a mutually beneficial deal for both Buyer and Seller.

Being guided by a Real Estate Professional within a renowned and reliable Global Organization such as Century 21 is of great importance to give our clients the best possible service when searching for property to Buy or Rent. Additionally, we have the ability to integrate with other offices from the Country, Region and Internationally, by offering support and shared listing information. This is especially of great help for our clients when they wish to sell their property.

Buying from new Developments needs careful guidance. CENTURY 21 Pro Real Estate Hua Hin recommends only Developments that have or are completing a show house.

Developments that are not reliant on sales and are able to build and complete many or all of their homes are high on our list of recommendations. Potentially, large developments that rely solely on sales to build could take many years to complete with the early purchasers experiencing ongoing building disturbance. We conduct due diligence to check out a Developer's financial ability in following the sales and marketing plan and construction timetables.

Buying re-sale homes also require expert advice on quality, legal condition, pricing, negotiation and purchase contractual inclusions. Having successfully helped hundreds of purchasers we know if the price is right and can describe and demonstrate location values. Our guidance can protect that your purchase will stand the test of time if you wish to resell in the future. We have been able to purchase investment homes in several Developments that we have then recommended our clients look at. The saying 'eat where the locals eat' can be said of property 'buy where the experts buy'. Purchasing land, whether you are an individual or a Developer with great ideas, also requires many considerations that CENTURY 21 Pro Real Estate Hua Hin can help you with. We have helped many individuals find their ideal dream location and advised them on finding a reputable builder and site/project manager if required. Having built our own large 1,000 sqm + home several years ago and realized a strong profit, we can give great experience of the potential pitfalls that careful planning in the beginning can protect against.

Developers have been able to use our knowledge in finding ideal pieces of land for their project requirements. We have been able to advice quickly and accurately on the processes needed to deal with all government approvals and have contributed with conceptual architects to turn the dreams in to realities by finding a marketable product to ensure consistent sales flow.

At Century 21 Pro Real Estate Hua Hin we welcome you.
